ELCA World Hunger

Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

God's work. Our hands.

ELCA World Hunger's Daily Bread Matching Grants support congregations and their partners as they work toward a just world where all are fed. Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) congregations with feeding ministries are eligible to participate. In this round, approximately 50 grants are available to eligible ministries.

If your congregation sponsors a feeding ministry, please reach out to Pastor Peggy Paugh Leuzinger, Director for Evangelical Mission for the Montana Synod for assistance to apply for the Daily Bread Matching Grant.

The Grant process opens on April 26th, and is only open until May 7th, so timing is important. If your application is approved, you will be able to invite your congregation, networks and friends to donate to kickstart your campaign, and the funds you raise will be matched by ELCA World Hunger with a grant of $500.

An Original Liturgy from the MT Synod Changing Climate Task Force

Dearest Colleagues, are you tired of teaching all about bread? Remember, this is Year B and we who follow the RCI have 6 weeks on bread toward the end of August. What if the Climate Change Task Force gave you a fully built liturgy, sermons (or sermon guidance), videos, new songs, and new prayers all geared toward Creation Care that you could sub – in during that 6 week cycle? During this workshop, the Task Force will provide an introduction to the new liturgy, have a text study on the chosen scriptures, and provide an update on what the Task Force is currently doing.

Date: April 29

Time: 5-8pm MST.

Cost: $25 (includes access to the liturgy after the class)

St. John's United

FAMILY SERVICES

From time to time, letters arrive in our office with a seemingly simple request — Would you please forward this to my child? If we are fortunate, the sender shares a bit about their adoption story — often with a hiccup of joy and grief in their voice — as they wonder about their child. They send the letters with faith that someday... Sometimes, the letter we send on their behalf returns to us without a forwarding address so we file for safekeeping “just in case.”

Many of us have experienced grief, anxiety, and worry during this global pandemic as we consider our relationships and wonder about the future. For those impacted by adoption, especially in closed adoptions or those whose communication exchange has dwindled, I think these past months have heightened these feelings. And so we hear from a birth grandparent seeking to connect with their (now adult) grandchild, perhaps for the first and last time. We hear from an adoptee with dark hair, lovingly raised in a family full of redheads, who has decided to reach out to their birth family. We hear from birth parents bravely saying that they are ready to meet their child and their adoptive family.

St. John's United Family Services adoption counselors answer the phone, respond to the emails, and treasure the letters as we hear stories of loss and hope. We provide this ministry thanks to the faithful support of donors like you who recognize the lifelong complexity of adoption. Because of your financial support, we meet adoptees, birth families, and adoptive families where they are regardless of their worries and fears. We hold their hands as they remember the goodbye at the hospital. We help them compose the letter inviting a reunion. We facilitate gatherings of nervous parties meeting again years after the placement. All of this is possible thanks to your generosity.

As spring emerges with signs of new life, renewal, and promise, I invite you to help us keep the faith by offering your financial support for those impacted by adoption as they wonder about their past and face their future.

With gratitude,

Trudi Paulson, LCSW
